Comments from the Chair

Commission Chair

CHANGE... we all have change in our lives and we certainly have had our share of CHANGE at the Real Estate Commission office!

I want to welcome our new Executive Director, Jeanne Jackson-Heim. Jeanne took over in her new position as of September 11, 2006, replacing Donna Jones, who has moved on to pursue her political career. Jeanne comes with great credentials and we Commissioners are looking forward to working with her!

I also want to welcome our newest Commissioner, Mr. Kelly Fisher, from the East District. Kelly replaces Mr. Ron Clawson, who served the Commission for 8 years.

We will miss both Donna and Ron.

One thing that has not changed is the growing number of new licensees that are getting licensed in Idaho. Total number of licensees in September 2004 was 8,331, September 2005 was 9,796, September 2006 was 11,995 and October 2006 was 12,125.

We are pleased that licensees seem to be renewing in a timelier manner and taking personal responsibility to make sure they have the right number of renewal hours, within their 2 year renewal period, and that they aren't confusing the COMMISSION CORE course, with the NAR® course called "Cracking the Code".

Just remember to take 16 hours of approved CE courses and the 4 hour COMMISSION CORE course within your 2 year renewal period and you are good to go!!! Please go to www.irec.idaho.gov and bookmark it for future reference! There is a list of ALL courses being offered throughout the state. Check it out! This is a site with answers to some of your questions. You can also e-mail Staff or Commissioners directly from that site.

We recently attended the Idaho Association of REALTORS® Convention in Jackson Hole, Wyoming and enjoyed the great speakers/classes provided and for the opportunity to participate at their general membership meeting. I promised at that meeting to include in the next issue of the Real Estate the "most common" mistakes and complaints the investigative department has received against licensees. Thanks to Mr. Terry Ruettgers, our Chief Investigator for the following information:

Common mistakes:

1. Mishandling of earnest money:
 - a. Earnest money is shown as received on PSA but is not received until a later date.
 - b. Earnest money check is NSF and the selling agent does not notify the listing agent and seller that the check bounced.
 - c. Earnest money is not turned into the broker, especially when the buyer is the real estate agent.
2. Advertising:

- a. Agent is in the classified pages of the newspaper or on the internet and not showing who he/she is licensed with.

- b. Blind ads in which listed property is advertised but no company is shown.

- c. Internet advertising and the agents advertise the "team name" but does not show the company name.

3. We are seeing a lot of "tattle tale" complaints from agents against other agents for the perceived violations in advertising-mostly dealing with offering of a portion of their commission to potential buyers and sellers. This has been allowed since 2000. As the market slows we are seeing more and more of this type of "tattle taling".

4. Agency-the age old problem of saying you're an agent but not having the buyer representation documents to back it up.

Common Complaints:

1. Unlicensed practice-more and more we are seeing and prosecuting this.
2. Failure to disclose adverse material facts such as:
 - a. Zoning issues.
 - b. Well or septic issues.
 - c. Property lines easements or selling

ANDY ENRICO(Commission Representative)

MEET THE NEW EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Jeanne Jackson-Heim, Executive Director

After eight years as Executive Director, Donna Jones has left the Real Estate Commission to jump back into the political arena. The Commissioners and Staff of IREC congratulate Donna on her election to the office of Idaho State Controller, and wish her all the very best as she enters this new chapter in her career. We look forward to seeing Donna around the Capitol at the State Controller's Office!

As the new ED for the Real Estate Commission, I'd like to tell you a little bit about myself. My husband Wayne and I have recently moved to Boise from Sandpoint, where some of you may already know me from my three years as the EO for the Selkirk Association of REALTORS®. My work experience also includes nearly 15 years as a real estate and civil litigation paralegal for a law firm in Jackson, Wyoming and a term of public service as a local elected official in Jackson. Wayne is a house painter and together we have three children. Two of them are grown up and on their own, but we have one daughter who is still in college at the University of Idaho. I feel extremely fortunate to have been selected for this important position, and I look forward to the opportunity to work with the Real Estate Commission and all of you.

Moving to Boise has been a big adjustment and I have a lot to learn, but it's been made so much easier by the help and support of the Commission staff. IREC is very fortunate to have great employees with a wealth of knowledge and experience, and I appreciate them all very much. The transition was also facilitated by Donna Jones and all of her hard work to make sure that things were left in good shape for me. I want to publicly thank Donna and all of the IREC staff for their kindness and professionalism and for making me feel so welcome.

For the upcoming 2007 legislative session, IREC will introduce legislation to enable the agency to purchase a building for a permanent home for the IREC offices. Also, IREC will present its annual "housekeeping" bill, containing minor language amendments but no substantive law changes. These include increasing the number of hours of CE (from three to four) that a licensee can earn by attending a Commission meeting and deleting the seven-day notice requirement to attend a Commission meeting for CE. In addition, there are revisions to the requirements for course certification, clarification of the language establishing fees for certain IREC services (but not changing the fees themselves), and deleting the requirement that a real estate trust account be maintained in an Idaho bank. These two pieces of proposed legislation are now available for review on the IREC website at www.irec.idaho.gov.

In addition, the Commission hopes to introduce a law change during the 2007 legislative session which would require all new sales licensees to complete a post license education requirement during their initial license period. (See Education Director Karen Seay's article for more details on this proposal.) There is more work to be done before this legislation is finalized, but we look forward to discussing this proposal further with IAR® and education providers to arrive at common ground on this matter. 🏠

Commissioner Steve Kohntopp presents outgoing Executive Director Donna Jones with a plaque in recognition of her service to IREC.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Do reservation agreements require the same agency representation confirmation and acknowledgement of disclosure as Purchase and Sales Agreements?

A: Yes. Often times the forms that are utilized for reservation agreements require the addition of an Addendum to accomplish this, but license law requires the representation confirmation and acknowledgment of disclosure be there verbatim.

Q: As an actively licensed real estate agent in Idaho, can I sell my own home “For Sale By Owner”?

A: Yes. You can market and sell your home “FSBO”, however, the transaction still has to go through your broker. You can sell the property without going through the MLS with proper disclosures that you are a licensed real estate agent in Idaho, but you still have to run the transaction through your designated broker.

Q: Can I advertise a free gift card to anyone who buys real property from me?

A: Idaho Code Section 54-2054.(2) states in part “... An Idaho licensee may pay any part or share of a commission, fee or compensation received, directly to the buyer or seller in the real estate transaction. However, no commission, fee or compensation may be split with any party to the transaction in a manner which would directly or indirectly create a double contract, as defined in this chapter, or which would otherwise mislead any broker, lender, title company or government agency involved in the transaction regarding the source of funds used to complete the real estate transaction or regarding the financial resources or obligations of the buyer...”

This indicates that it is legal to share your compensation with a buyer, but requires you to disclose any contributions to the actual transaction to the loan underwriter. As an example are they using a gift card to install a new furnace so the property will pass an appraisal?

One additional caution is in order, Idaho Code Section 54-2053.(4) states “...No advertising shall provide any information to the public or to prospective customers or clients which is misleading in nature. Information is misleading if, when taken as a whole, there is a distinct probability that such information will deceive the persons whom it is intended to influence...”

You may intend to provide gift cards to buyers of new construction homes. If your advertisement does not specify this, buyers of raw land or repossessed property may expect to receive a gift card too.

Q: Can a developer require my buyer/client to qualify with the developer’s lender, before considering our offer?

A: Yes! If the developer wants their own person to qualify your buyer, they have this right. The developer cannot force your buyer into using the lender they prefer. If your buyer is uncomfortable revealing that type of information to the developer, they have the right to look at other properties.

See the Commission in action!

On April 19, 2007, the Idaho Real Estate Commission will hold the regular Commission meeting in Pocatello. Three hours of continuing education credit is offered to licensees who attend. If you would like attend, please fill out and mail in the Attend a Commission Meeting form on Page 18.

the wrong lots.

d. Bounced earnest money.

e. LP siding settlement that was paid but siding not replaced.

f. Inspection turning up many house problems (Money Pit type) but problems withheld from new buyer.

g. Stucco damage from Inspection report withheld by Buyer's agent from the buyer. Damage amounted to over $40,000.

h. Seller gave Listing Agent detailed letter with many problems with property including well issues, but listing/selling agent never gave to buyer because "he had enough time to look it over".

3. Double Contracts:

a. Selling multiple properties to investors without disclosing loans that were outstanding or showing they were primary dwelling multiple times.

b. Provide false lease agreements/ or purchase agreement to lender to qualify buyer/sellers when no leases or sales actually existed.

c. Undisclosed loaning money to a buyer for closing costs and down payments and later securing a deed of trust and note on the property.

d. Refinance/purchases-closing statement not available and do not match the PSA.

4. Convictions of felonies or misdemeanor involving fraud:

a. Drug convictions.

b. Convicted of multiple bad check charges.

c. Petty theft/shop lifting.

5. Paying bird dog fees to unlicensed persons.

6. Agency-Broker had pocket listing on property, full price offer made by buyer client, but seller willing to pay only 3% commission, counter offer back to buyer/client for additional money that would cover a 6% commission. Not working for buyer/clients best interest.

7. Broker submitted a HUD offer under the name of another broker when he was unable to submit offer to HUD. Both brokers were in violation.

8. Using the same earnest money on two different accepted P&S agreements, and then canceling one deal.

9. Agent did not turn in P&S agreement on an accepted offer, the agent left the office and went to work at another office. Later seller wanted earnest money since the buyer defaulted and the original broker had no idea a contract even existed.

As you can see, our investigators are very busy! Hopefully this will help each of you to avoid making any of these same mistakes, which can be costly!!

Education is the best prevention to keeping all of us out of trouble. I am so proud of our Education Director, Karen Seay, and the Education Council for all the hard work and upcoming changes that they have done and are currently working on for the benefit of all licensees. Karen's report will update you with the details.

Remember you can get 3 CE hours if you attend a Commission meeting. The meetings are currently being held in Boise usually the 3rd Thursday of each month, but we are discussing having some future meetings in each of the four districts; if so, we invite you to attend. You will find it informative and well worth your time. See you soon?

EDUCATION UPDATE: POST LICENSE

by Karen Seay, Education Director

Ever since the Commissioners directed Council in May 2006 to research a post license requirement, Council has made this their first priority and number one goal. Six months later, Council's monthly meeting efforts are reflected in the Commission's post license proposal submitted to the Governor's office for consideration in the 2007 legislative session. A post license requirement will require legislative approval to become law.

The Commission proposes a conditional sales license for anyone licensed on or after July 1, 2008. This requirement would NOT affect anyone already licensed by June 30, 2008 and will not affect anyone applying for a broker license. A conditional license will not be a limited license. Licensees holding a conditional license will have all the rights and responsibilities of any licensee with a permanent license. A conditional licensee will be required to complete the post license education requirement during the initial license period and prior to the first renewal of the license. The post license education requirement will consist of a set of courses not to exceed a total of 32 classroom hours. These courses will be approved by the Commission and designed to meet the educational needs of the newly licensed salesperson. Periodic updates regarding the proposed post license education requirements will be available at www.irec.idaho.gov; click on the Education link.

At the time of this writing, Council is proposing for post license education, eight 4-hour course sections to include agency, professional conduct and ethics, contract principles, forms 1 (purchase & sale agreements), forms 2 (purchase & sale new construction), CMA's, risk reduction, negotiation and closings. In addition to the Commission developing a post license course, Council intends to encourage certified providers to submit post license course applications for consideration. The Commission may approve courses for post license that are designed to meet the needs of the newly licensed salesperson in the designated areas and that build on prelicense skills and knowledge necessary to function successfully in the practice of real estate. Post license courses will be highly interactive and no final exam will be required.

Council plans to develop and implement three post license test-run pilot programs a year from now. These pilot programs will be held in three areas of the state -- Coeur d'Alene, Boise, and Pocatello -- for the purpose of fine-tuning course content material. Two to four instructors and 15 -25 students will be involved in each pilot program. The majority of the students participating in these test-run courses will be first renewal licensees, mirroring the type of student who will participate in a post license course. Students will receive continuing education credit for the courses and will provide valuable feedback that Council will use in solidifying the final post license courses. Education fine monies will be used for course development and for the pilot programs.

The Commission has received tremendous support for a post license requirement. This support mirrors survey results from the Commission's 2005 Education Survey where participants responded to a question asking whether or not pre-license education is sufficient. 291 licensees responded and 54% of salespeople responded "no"; 71% of associate brokers responded "no"; and 60% of designated brokers responded "no."

The Commission is committed to having the best-educated licensees possible and believes that moving forward with this post license requirement will more fully prepare Idaho licensees for conducting real estate transactions in the 21st century. Better-educated licensees will be positioned to better serve and protect the public's interest and potentially, this will result in fewer disciplinary actions.

The Council is interested in what you think. If you have comments about the Commission's post license requirement concept, please contact a Council member or Commissioner directly or the education department at karen.seay@irec.idaho.gov. We want to hear from you.

Check your education at <https://www.accessidaho.org/secure/irec/licensing/services.html>. If you have taken education that does not appear on your record, please fax certificates of completion to Jesama at (208) 334-2050. Please do not fax receipts, course outlines, or registration forms as proof of course completion.

PRESCRIPTION FOR SURVIVAL

By Maris Cukurs,
Education Council Chair

As the nation's five-year real estate boom loses its bang, real estate agents – who saw their ranks swell with the same tide that elevated housing prices – will likely see their numbers recede, along with sales and home prices. Today's real estate market can be described by one word – change.

Not only is the market changing, but so is technology, regulatory requirements, business models, financing options, sophistication of the buyers and investment options in real estate.

National Association of REALTORS® 2006 Technology Survey covered subjects not even thought of a few years ago – Transaction Management Systems (TMS), Global Positioning Systems (GPS) and Internet Data Exchange (IDX). Portions of the country now use auctions and incremental pricing to market properties. The EPA is redefining lead hazards and Tenants in Common (TIC) sales are complicated by whether it is real estate or securities.

To survive this changing business and to compete in a tougher market, the real estate agent must be familiar with all aspects of this changing business. This can only be achieved through education. The minimal continuing education requirements for license renewal in no way can keep up with the knowledge that is now required to survive. The answer is additional education. Today's agents in Idaho have hundreds of options to improve their real estate knowledge.

Education does not COST; it PAYS. National Association of REALTORS® Member Survey 2005 shows that the median income of members with an advanced designation earn more than twice than those without any designation. Most designations require some form of additional education.

MEET THE NEWEST EDUCATION COUNCIL MEMBER

Donna Capurso became a North Idaho transplant from central California in March, 1997, and she never takes for granted the wonderful lifestyle she now enjoys with her husband Terry and Alaskan Malamute Kody.

Donna started studying for her real estate career through a very extensive correspondence course through the University of Idaho Moscow while still in California. She completed her licensure in North Idaho and began taking additional courses immediately to further her real estate knowledge. With her law enforcement background, she was particularly interested in real estate law, and completed that course first. Since then, she has completed the real estate designations of CRS, ABR, GRI and RRS, and obtained her Associate Broker's license in 2004. Donna opened her own office, Selkirk Mountain Real Estate, in January 2006.

She is excited to have been selected to serve as a volunteer on the Idaho Real Estate Education Council, Northern District. She believes the more comprehensive education and knowledge an agent has, the better representation and protection they will be able to provide to their clients. She also believes that there is no substitution for honesty and integrity in completing a real estate transaction from the beginning to the end.

MEET THE NEWEST COMMISSION MEMBER

Kelly Fisher has resided in Idaho all of his life. In 1974 he married Penny Holman and they have four married children and eight grandchildren.

In 1976, Kelly formed Fisher Construction and in 1979 he received his real estate license. Over the past thirty years, Kelly has served on numerous local and state committees and is a past president of both the Greater Pocatello Association of REALTORS® and the Building Contractors Association of Southeast Idaho.

He is a past REALTOR® of the Year and in 1996 was one of the first recipients to receive the Office Manager's Award for Excellence from more than 2,400 offices worldwide in the Coldwell Banker Organization. Certified Residential Specialist and Graduate REALTOR® Institute are two of the designations Kelly is honored to have earned.

Education has always been important to him. Kelly continues to be both a student and an instructor and has taught for the Graduate REALTOR® Institute, Idaho Department of Water Resources (Energy Division), the Idaho Education Council, Professional Real Estate School and various times for the Greater Pocatello Association of REALTORS®.

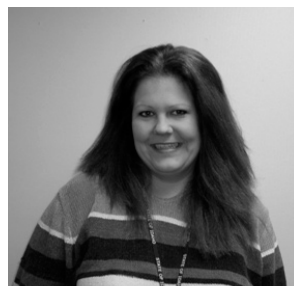

When it comes to real estate, Kelly is passionate. He believes in the "American dream of home ownership" and protecting and preserving the rights of property owners. He is looking forward to working with the other Idaho Real Estate Commission Commissioners and Staff in helping make our profession the best it can be.
